

The natural choice in security & safety training

Putting the client first

We live in a fast-paced world where physical and virtual threats are constantly evolving. Together with the added pressure to comply with ever-changing legislation on security requirements, businesses can find they are easily losing the battle to provide sufficient security and safety in the workplace.

First Security understands these challenges. With over 25 years experience, and an expert team from fields such as military, police, government and commercial, our unmatched knowledge has enabled us to develop powerful tools that adapt to any environment to create safe working surroundings.

Using the best tools

From health and safety to Compliance, First Aid to CCTV or Counter Terrorism, our suite of training options are delivered throughout the UK at your venue or ours. Tailored specifically to the needs of your business and environment, all training meets SIA and national framework requirements.

Empowering our clients through facilitation and understanding ensures they meet security regulations and guidelines, while gaining the confidence to effectively deal with difficult and confrontational situations.

For more information call
020 7837 5424 or visit
www.first-security.co.uk

Protection comes first

Our primary purpose is to ensure your people and assets are protected. By implementing First Security's tools into your workplace you will feel secure in the knowledge that your environment is armed with the best resources available.

Small enough to care, big enough to cope

First Security operates throughout London and nationally. We deal with everything from small family run businesses to FTSE 100 companies and across all industry sectors.

We have just the right balance of resource, innovation and responsiveness to always be there with the right solution whenever you need us.

SMARTER SECURITY. PERSONAL DELIVERY.